NORWAY AND VICINITY

Hazel Bicknell spent Sunday with her friends in West Paris.

Dr. H. L. Truett is suffering from blood poisoning caused by a spider bite. The bite was on his hand and he is in a very serious condition, and it is feared he may be obliged to have his hand and arm amputated.

The prohibition "auto party," Saturday, called out a large crowd on Norway's streets. The speakers, Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts and J. E. Cunneen, the Irish Catholic Labor orator of Chicago, presented what they had to say in a finished manner. They spoke near the Beal's hotel. They also spoke in Hiram, Fryeburg, Bridgton and South Paris. They started out from Portland, Sept. 1st, and return there the 10th. They are booked to speak in thirty-six cities and villages.

Abigail Whitman Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held their first meeting of the season, Wednesday evening, with Mrs. Sarah Bennett as hostess. The members told of the "Summer Events" in their lives since their last meeting. They talked over, and the wind was something fierce, but Walter Christian and Frank Lanan, who have a great deal more respect for their lives than the other two boys, walked up to camp. Sunday morning photographs were taken of the boys and the quartet, Christian, Lanan, Brown and Fogg, returned the Gloucester Rag as composed by Walter Christian and Ernest Brown accompanied on the piano by Arthur Welch. A pork roast was served by A. Fogg, ob cook, a very fine dinner indeed. The afternoon was spent lying around reading and pitching horseshoes. Messrs. Welch and Fogg are champions. Messrs. Lanan and Christian play next week for the championship of the camp.

Elph Richardson, Earl Shaw and Roy White stopped to see us on their way to East Waterford.

Congregational Notes. On Sunday, Sept. 10th, services will be resumed in the Congregational church. The Rev. and Mrs. R. J. Bruce have returned from their vacation rested and strengthened for the winter's work. The church building has been extensively repaired and presents an even more than ever attractive place of worship. The four of service and the sermon, ship. The Thursday evening Bible talks and the prayer meetings will continue to be of a devotional and deeply spiritual nature. In every way the work of the church will be made as helpful as possible.

The Sunday morning service will be held at 10:40, sermon theme, "Treasure in Earth," followed by the administration of the Holy Communion. Sunday school will convene at 12 m. In the evening the service will be omitted in order that the congregation may unite with the temperance rally in the Opera House.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Kimball are moving from the Elm House to the rent over Wm. O. Leavitt's store.

Next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock there will be a No-Licence rally at Norway Lake. Should the weather be favorable the meeting will be held in a grove, otherwise at the schoolhouse. Judge Whitman, Donald Partridge and B. C. Wentworth will speak. At 6 o'clock the same parties will speak at the club house on Crockett's Ridge.

Walter J. Avery and crew are painting the Abbott block. Colors green, brick red and a very light brown. It is understood that Mr. Avery is soon to go to St. Louis, Mo., when he will study medicine in view of becoming a physician. They are to sell the Haskell house on upper Main street to C. E. Cummings & Sons. Mr. Avery has had all the painting he could do this season.

SEPTEMBER 8, 1911, NORWAY, MAINE.

VOLUME XLII.

Town Meeting Next Monday.

You are expected to register an expression of your opinion at the polls next Monday on four questions. See sample ballot on page 6.

Question 1—An X mark in the square under the "yes" means to take from the constitution the prohibition amendment and leave the control of the liquor traffic to the legislature. An X in the "no" square means a continuation of liquor laws as have existed in the past.

Vote as you think best on this.

Question 2—"Yes" is to constitutionally make Augusta the seat of government of this State. No is opposed to doing this.

Vote no. Don't load up the constitution with unnecessary amendments. Leave the matter of a possible change of the location of the capitol with the people. It is safe in their hands.

Question 3—"Yes" means that the city of Portland can increase its debt now and other cities when they get 40,000 inhabitants can do it.

Vote yes.

Question 4—"Yes" means the adoption of a system of balloting for the selection of candidates for officers in this State. An X in the "no" square is against it.

Vote no.

Sarah Parsons Newhall.

Sarah Parsons Newhall died at her home at Norway Lake, Sunday, Sept. 3, of a complication of diseases. She was born at New Gloucester 72 years ago, May 26, the daughter of Charles and Lydia Parsons Newhall. Her parents moved from Gloucester when she was young and she has always made her home here when not working in Boston. She took care of father, mother and two brothers here in her old homestead until they passed on, giving them all the comfort and love she possibly could, and was a dear friend and neighbor to all. She will be greatly missed by everyone who has known her and most by the only brother who is left alone.

Miss Newhall was a coat-maker and worked in South Paris and Boston. She was a member of the Norway Lake Woman's club.

She survived by one brother, Albert S. Newhall, two brothers-in-law, Hon. Z. M. Mansur of Vermont and George Grant of California; one niece, Mrs. Mabel Mansur Storrs, and two nephews, Arthur Mansur and Roscoe Grant; one grandniece, Sallie Storrs, and a grandnephew, Jack Storrs.

The funeral was from her home, Tuesday, Sept. 5th. Rev. B. C. Wentworth was the attending clergyman. Helen Dunn sang a solo. The bearers were Elmer Dunn, David Flood, Zenas Mills and Horace Perry. Interment in Pike Hill cemetery.

Camp Commis. Notes.

Arthur Welch has at last come to himself when he returned to Camp Commis from Massachusetts, where he has been spending a vacation. He has commenced the last part of the powerful searchlight, which he expects to have finished by Saturday night. It is a very powerful affair, 35 candle power, with a very powerful reflector, which cannot be beaten by any reflector of its size and build. Arthur constructed it all himself so please give him credit for his work, as we did not lift a hand to help him. So if you happen along the road and see a streak of light up and down the lake you can say "that is Arthur Welch's searchlight."

George W. Wood, Jr., has accepted a position as chief engineer of the corn factory at Bolster's Mills. He was formerly spending his vacation with us boys at camp.

Saturday night was a strenuous night for us boys. Arthur Welch and Albert Fogg paddled the canoe to Crockett's Bridge in danger of their lives. The wind was something fierce, but Walter Christian and Frank Lanan, who have a great deal more respect for their lives than the other two boys, walked up to camp. Sunday morning photographs were taken of the boys and the quartet, Christian, Lanan, Brown and Fogg, returned the Gloucester Rag as composed by Walter Christian and Ernest Brown accompanied on the piano by Arthur Welch. A pork roast was served by A. Fogg, ob cook, a very fine dinner indeed. The afternoon was spent lying around reading and pitching horseshoes. Messrs. Welch and Fogg are champions. Messrs. Lanan and Christian play next week for the championship of the camp.

Elph Richardson, Earl Shaw and Roy White stopped to see us on their way to East Waterford.

THE NORWAY ADVERTISER

(OXFORD COUNTY, ME.)

John W. Chaplin.

John W. Chaplin passed away Monday Aug. 28, at the home of his wife's father, Orin P. Stiles, Norway, at the age of 49 years and 6 months. Cause of death was hardening of the arteries. He had been a great sufferer, and about two weeks before his death went to the hospital for treatment, but as it was found he could not be helped, he returned home about a week before his death. Mr. Chaplin was born in Harrison, Me., 27, 1862, and was the son of Appleton and Emma Chaplin. He was educated in the public schools of Harrison, but lived in the towns of Bethel, Buckfield and Paris the greater part of his life. In politics he was a Republican, and he was a member of the Methodist church. For several years he was a section man on the railroad, but for the last twenty years he had been a farmer. On May 30, 1891, he married Florence Stiles of Buckfield, who survives him. One daughter was born to them, Gladys, now 15 years of age. He also survived by two half-sisters, Mrs. Herman Thompson and Mrs. May Leighton, and two half-brothers, Charles and Frank Chaplin, all of Harrison.

The funeral took place at the home of Orin Stiles, Steep Falls, Wednesday at 1 o'clock. Rev. B. C. Wentworth officiating. The bearers were W. E. Foss, S. Harriman, B. Goodwin and Horace Cole. Burial was at Pine Grove cemetery. The following is a partial list of flowers:

Cut flowers—Geo. Stiles.

Asters—Mrs. J. A. Libby.

Cut flowers—Mr. and Mrs. Horace Pike.

A Narrow Escape.

Ralph Richardson and a party of friends while out in Mr. Richardson's team for a ride Sunday had a narrow escape from serious injury. The horse was afraid of an automobile and became unmanageable and the team tipped over spilling them all out. Fortunately the horse became quiet or there might have been a broken arm or leg.

Corn Roast.

Friday evening a party of young people were invited to the home of Frank Haskell on Pleasant street for a corn roast. A bonfire was built out in the pasture, and while waiting for this to be prepared for the roasting, an Indian dance was given. Corn and marshmallows were roasted and eaten, and later the party adjourned to the house where music was enjoyed.

A piano solo by Marion Haskell and a solo by Beryl Millett were much appreciated. Homer Luck was requested by the ladies to sing his solo, Silver Threads About the Gold, but was too shy.

About sixteen were present and a thorough good time is reported.

Held in Sum of $1000.

Marquette Cummings of Brownfield, who was arrested, Friday, for having assaulted his brother, William Cummings, of South Paris in a camp three miles from the village, was arraigned on Saturday morning, charged with an assault with intent to kill. He pleaded not guilty, but probable cause was found and he was held in the sum of $1000 for the next term of the Supreme court for Oxford county. He did not furnish the securities but went to jail to await trial. He will be represented by James Wright.

Citizens' No License Meeting.

The final No License rally will be held at the Opera House next Sunday evening at 7:30. Special music and short speeches will be the order of the evening. One of the special features of the meeting will be a short address to the young voters of Norway by Donald Partridge.

Deeds, Not Words

Norway People Have Absolute Proof of Deeds at Home.

It's not words but deeds that prove true merit.

The deeds of Dian's Kidney Pills, For Norway kidney sufferers, Have made their local reputation.

Proof lies in the testimony of Norway people who have been cured to stay cured.

George H. Buswell, Marston street, Norway, Maine, says: "About six months ago my kidneys became disordered and I suffered from pain across the small of my back. I felt languid nearly all the time and did not sleep well. The kidney secretions were scanty and unobscured and I had a too frequent desire to void them. My body bloated at times and I was subject to dull headaches. Knowing of the merits of Dian's Kidney Pills, I procured a supply at them. They cured me and I am now free from kidney trouble." 36-37

A Remarkable Jewel Box of Nature.

While recently visiting the scenes of my boyhood in Maine, and the mountains where I first learned to hunt for rare minerals and birds, I was shown at Norway a most remarkable collection of uncut gems recently discovered in Acadia, Maine, by accident.

There were about 100 splendid transparent crystals of green tourmaline, varying in shade from pale golden green to the deepest emerald, many of them with perfect terminal faces, and all fit to cut for costly gems. All had a brilliant lustre, some rose color at one end, shading into green at the other. Sizes were various, from one-quarter up to three quarters of an inch in diameter and two to nearly three inches long. Altogether it was a most remarkable collection of gems, of this kind, perhaps the most notable ever discovered at one time.

These were all found in one small closed "pocket" imbedded in clay or kaolin, in a granite ledge, so that they could be picked out with the fingers, thus no injury occurred from cutting or blasting the rock. It was truly a perfect natural "jewel box" that has held its treasures safely for millions of years.

It is a rare chance for some wealthy man to buy the entire lot and present it to some large museum like the American Museum of New York, or the National Museum, or to Yale or Harvard, before the crystals are cut up for jewelry. Another discovery of this kind may never occur again. Nature does not often make duplicates of such things. A gift of this kind to any suitable institution would be an enduring memorial, as well as of great value to science.

Personally I have no interest in the matter beyond the desire to have such a rare collection permanently preserved, nor do I know what value is placed upon it. They were found by two local young men of small means, I understand, and no doubt they will soon dispose of them to be cut for gems, if not otherwise.

A Thought for Old Oxford Co.

Worcester, Mass., Aug. 1, 1911.

DEAR BROTHER:—My subscription list of papers and magazines was so large that I felt as if I must drop some of them, and among them I decided that I would not take the ADVERTISER any longer, but accept the offer of a friend to send it after it was a week old or so. Very soon I found that I was going to miss my weekly letter from home and so I send once more my subscription to your paper and allow some inferior paper to drop from my list.

It pays to keep in touch with the old home and the old friends dropping so fast from Life's list. A visit to the old scenes in Oxford county recently brought forcibly to mind the rude changes which only four short years can make, and even sadder than other loved ones have laid down their work.

Just at this season everyone is looking forward to the great New England Fair, which opens each year on Labor Day. In comparison with the great Oxford County fair it is a small fair. I am sure that the exhibition of thoroughbred cattle, or the racing of horses, is not excelled in Worcester. The halls where machinery is exhibited and fruit and fancy work displayed, though perhaps larger and more imposing, is in no wise any better than that down in Maine.

Above all when one has attended country fairs for years, to go into a city fair many things are painfully noticeable. There is nowhere seen the eager expectant looks or heard the joyful "How do you do?" from old friends and acquaintances, no cordial hand-shakes, no big lunch boxes shared in shady spots, no hay in the back of anybody's wagon. No coming early and staying till sunset, no jokes at each other's expense, no running after bargains from a big open wagon.

This year in Worcester contestants in the monoplane and biplane races will fly into Greendale fair grounds, this being one corner of the most important aviation race ever staged in America. The triangle corners are Nashua, Providence and Worcester, and the great airship manned by Claude Grahame White will be watched by many thousand people, especially if the weather is fine.

Last year Alfred Vanderbilt exhibited his fancy stock of thoroughbred Jerseys, and very handsome the herd was with their satin like skins, but in spite of all the care and expense I think only the third prize was given. A very nice display of thoroughbred Herefords was made by O. E. Smith of Sandwich, N. H.

Vaudeville performances are given before the grand stand each day and $1.00 is charged for seats in that enclosure, thousands outside stretching their necks for a glimpse of the fascinating performances.

A very laughable incident occurred last year. A man so blind that he had to be led by his devoted wife, who was almost as old and feeble as himself, tried to see over the high board fence by standing on a box. He caught a glimpse of a dancing girl dressed in pink tights and a spangled short skirt. "Hey, there!" he shouted, while his wife tried to pull him down from his perch. "By gum, you don't cheat me out of that! I'll see that woman if I break my neck." No so much sympathy was given his apparent blindness, but more to his discomfiture.

With approaching September the churches are being reopened, the vacationists are returning and clubs are reforming. One interest is the Metropolitan club which meets each week. Many interesting lectures have been secured. R. C. Douglass of Boston, Harrison Brown of San Francisco, Elizabeth Towne of Holyoke, Van Doven of Hartford and many others will speak through the winter.

Many of the G. A. R. from Worcester attended the National Encampment at Rochester the past week. All voted it a good time. President Taft was there and addressed the "Boys" as they delight to call themselves.

Green Hill Park, very near my home, is visited each Sunday by thousands who appreciate the comfort of the wide fields, the open air meetings on the long sloping hillside given each week by the Young Men's Christian Association, the sacred concerts by the band as the evening draws near, the attractions of the wonderful museum in the grand old mansion, the delights of the spacious refectory, the allurements of the wide walk, the play of its thousands of fishes, fed by old and young, the wide walks and hundreds of shady nooks. This park is a glorious boon both to the rich and poor. All are welcome within its gates, and all are free to come and go.

It is said that Worcester has more varied manufactures than any other city in America. It has the largest carpet mill, the largest envelope factory, the largest wire mill. It contains 39 square miles and 144,000 population. In a recent graduating class of 143, nine nationalities were represented. It has 84 churches and 11 theatres, three colleges and three high schools.

Worcester merchants have agreed to care for all their sick employees for a period of thirteen weeks.

It is a beautiful city and its activities are excelled by no other.

It has been said that trees cannot be successfully removed from their native soil and transplanted to another. Perhaps this is why I often think how the wild sounds in the pine trees, and how the mountains look in my native Oxford County. ELLEN MILLET DAVENPORT.

Vote "No" Question No. Four.
We received the following from D.
Cromett Clark of Augusta and it expresses our notion so clearly we give it space:
Howard Davies, Esq., of Yarmouth has been up your way and delivered his speech in favor of primary elections. I would like to ask whether Mr. Davies exploited the fact that the primary election is a scheme for reducing the number of farmers in both houses of the Maine legislature? That is what it has accomplished elsewhere. It does so by putting the power in the largest town.
Suppose that Republicans from Rum-ford, Norway and Porter wanted to go to the State senate, and the people voted at a primary election on candidates.
Each man would get out the vote in his home town. The Rumford man would start with 500 votes, the Norway man with 325 and the Porter man with 175.
Where would the Norway man find the votes to overcome the lead of the Rum-ford man, or the Porter man find the votes to overcome the lead of either the Rumford or the Norway man?
Suppose the primary were for representative to the legislature from your home district, with a candidate from Norway. What would happen to a candidate from Oxford or Waterford? Does anybody need to be told?
In view of the fact that the experience with the primary laws in other States has been to concentrate power in this manner in the largest towns and that the rural population in those States is practically excluded from the State and county offices and from membership in the legislature, I am at a loss to understand the claim that the primary election is a way of choosing candidates according to their personal merits. It seems queer that the largest towns should have such a monopoly of merit.
Mr. Davies, so it is reported, has not denied anywhere that the primary election accomplishes these things which I have named, and he has had more than half a year in which to deny it since the statements were first made before him in a committee hearing for the legislature.
I intend on next Monday to vote "No" on Question No. 4. An act to provide for nomination of candidates of political parties by primary elections."

BOLSTER'S MILLS.
Mrs. Lydia Stuart.
Lydia Stuart, widow of Charles E.
Stuart of Bolster's Mills, passed to the higher life Aug. 28th. Mrs. Stuart was the daughter of William and Alice Twombly and was born in Harrison in October, 1832. She has for many years suffered from ill health and has been unable to mingle with others in social life.
Home was ever her sphere where she performed household tasks till failing strength forbade. She was of a retiring disposition and her kindly deeds and ministrations, often performed in weariness, were known only to her intimate friends, who were often amazed at her wonderful fortitude.
For nine weeks past she has been confined to her bed, a great sufferer from gangrene in the foot. Mrs. Stuart leaves one daughter, who has always resided with her, Lelia M. Gay, wife of Ernest L. Gay, who is a merchant and prominent citizen of Bolster's Mills. She also leaves one brother, William Twombly of Norway. The funeral was held at the Methodist church on Wednesday afternoon, attended by her pastor, Rev. W.
P. Lord of Portland. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. Interment in the Stuart cemetery, Harrison.

music; Miss Juliette Griffin and Richard Massey.
Prof. Hamlin is a graduate of Bowdoin 1900, and for ten years he has been principal of South Portland high school.
Under Prof. Hamlin's leadership the number of scholars increased from 98 to 220 and the standing of the school greatly advanced.
Sub-Master Leonard will teach chemistry, physics and manual training, and coach in athletics. He is a graduate of Dartmouth and has played on and coached base and foot ball team for several different colleges, including New Hampshire State University, Dartmouth college and University of Chattanooga.
Miss Kiddle, who will teach Latin and German was born in Richmond, and is a graduate of Richmond high school and Bates college, '10. She has taught in Northeast Harbor high school.
Miss Knight is also a graduate of Bates, has taught English and French at Leland and Gray seminaries, Milbridge high and St. George high school. During the summer she has studied French at St. Joseph's convent, Woodford.

Mrs. Fred Philbrook has been a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace B. Cummings for several days.
Ira Andrews, who has been assisting her aunt, Mrs. Fred Hazelton of Waterford, in housework, has returned home.
Arthur Andrews and family are spending a week with Mrs. Andrews' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Grover, at North Waterford.

Aha Cummings, Olive Wardwell and Annie Newcomb have resumed their studies at Gould's Academy, which opened Tuesday.
Mrs. Nellie Grover went to Lynn, Mass., Monday, Mrs. William McNally and children, Harold, Doris and Sydney accompanied her.
The fall term of school in the Clark District opened Monday. Miss Blanche Richardson of Bethel is engaged in teaching the school.
A pleasant day, outing was given to the party who had a hayride to Lake Umbagog Lake, on the shore of which a picnic was held Friday.

Children's Day was observed at the Congregational Church Sunday. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers, both wild and cultivated, autumn leaves, and in profusion. The exercises were very good and were largely attended.
The young people of Albany gave an entertainment at Round Mountain Grange Hall, Thursday evening, Aug. 31st, for the benefit of the Congregational Church. It consisted of a drama of two acts, entitled "A Perplexing Situation," dialogues, solos and recitations. Although the weather proved threatening, a large number of people were present, and an excellent program was given. Refreshments of pop corn, ice cream and candy were served.

LOCKE'S MILLS.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Bartlett and Bertha Lawrence attended Grange field day at the cottage of Mr. Freeman at Bryant's Pond, Thursday, which was much enjoyed by about two hundred guests.
Mr. and Mrs. Freeman spared no expense in work in making the day an enjoyable one from oldest to youngest.

Lost (Ladies) Hand Bag with Valuables.
Mr. and Mrs. Edric Eldridge of Boston and Mrs. Ella A. Hancock of Melrose, Mass., who were visiting at A. W. Weston's, Bolton's Mills, started to go by auto to Gorham, N. H., last Monday. On arriving at Blake Hill, Bethel, they discovered that a lady's hand bag that had been in the auto was missing.
They immediately returned over the road in hopes of finding the bag but it was not found.
In the bag was money, several diamonds, finger-rings and other jewelry of considerable value. In the pocketbook was a card bearing the name of "Mrs. Ella A. Hancock, Melrose, Mass.," and it is hoped the bag and contents will fall into the honest hands and be returned.

The officers of Fryburg Horse Railroad have held the required annual report with the railroad commissioners at Augusta. Instead of giving statistics, the report says that the railroad has been operated by Frank L. Meserve under an arrangement by which said Meserve takes all the receipts and assumes all charges and costs of every kind. The capitalization is stated as $125,000 stock outstanding, with no debt.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to all the friends who so kindly remembered, and assisted us in our recent bereavement; and also for the many beautiful floral tokens of remembrance and sympathy.
EZRA RIDLON AND FAMILY.

WEST PARIS.
Mrs. Eliza Thurlow Ridlon.
Mrs. Eliza Thurlow, wife of Ezra Ridlon passed away at home, Thursday evening after an illness of about eight years, caused by a fall which injured the back of her head that was followed by a shock. During all the lingering helplessness she has been tenderly cared for by her daughter and a devoted husband.

Mrs. Ridlon was the daughter of Asa and Lucy A. Billings Thurlow of Woodville, and was born December 13, 1829. She became the wife of Ezra Ridlon in Feb. 1849 and they made their home in Woodstock for sometime, for the last twenty years they have lived in West Paris. Four children were born to them John C. Ridlon, who died about fourteen years ago, Geo. W. Ridlon of West Paris, Lucy A. who died of diphtheria at the age of three years and Mrs. Nellie F. wife of Josiah Moody.

Early in their married life they were converted and joined the Methodist church in South Woodstock. After coming to West Paris they united with the Methodist church here where they were active workers and attendants as long as health permitted.
Funeral services were held in the M. E. church, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock conducted by Rev. D. F. Nelson of South Portland a former pastor here. Besides her husband, son and daughter, mentioned above she left two brothers, Albion Thurlow of Oskishona and Alpheus Thurlow of South Dakota and four grand children, M. S. Dora Jackson, Mrs. Della Penley, Clarence L. Penley, Clarence L. Ridlon and Bertha Ridlon.

Another singular coincidence in connection with Mrs. Ridlon's age was that of two of her friends in this village were born upon the same day, and they often celebrated their birthdays together. One of them Mrs. S. W. Dunham, who passed on about a year ago and Hannah, daughter of Mrs. Dunham, who has excellent health and is a well known citizen.
The flowers sent in by the friends and neighbors were many and beautifully arranged.

Alice Penley has returned from Boothbay Harbor.
Helen Nute of Fall River, Mass., has been visiting Mrs. C. P. Dunham.
Mrs. Emma Estes of Portland, is visiting her mother, Mrs. E. M. Emery.

Rev. Albert S. Phillips was in town a few days last week in the interests of "The Liberator" and other publications for the Universalist Publishing House.

Samuel R. Johnson has moved into the up stairs, rent in S. W. Dunham's house. Mr. Dunham has recently rearranged the rooms and put in a roof window in the old part.
Jennie L. Bradbury has finished working in the telephone office and Lucy Emmons has taken her place as telephone girl. Miss Bradbury will return to Bliss Business College.

Mrs. Oscar F. Whitman and little daughter of Boston, Mass., and Mrs. Cora M. W. Greenleaf of Norway, have been visiting their sister, Mrs. Alden E. Day, for the past two weeks.
Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cole went Saturday to the Fair, and returned Sunday. Cole's brother of Haverhill, Mass., also there. Mrs. Cole will return to Massachusetts with them for a visit there.

Dr. and Mrs. Taylor came here last week in the car, and returned to their home abroad and stopped for a few days with their little daughter, Frances, who has been staying here at J. R. Tucker's back home with them.

The temperance meeting last Saturday evening was well attended as the speaker, Rev. Mr. Dunken, who for some reasons did not appear, but Rev. D. A. Ball and Rev. L. W. Raymond very creditably filled the vacancy. Music by a mixed quartette and songs from the Campaign song books were enjoyed.

OXFORD.

At Pine Grove Farm.
An ideal day and the kindness of Joseph Robinson with his auto and others with teams made possible the pleasant realization of that characteristic of the gatherings of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational church at Pine Grove Farm, the pleasant home of Mrs. Clara Warren and Grace, where they greeted us so kindly Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 30th.

The first of the afternoon was spent in a social manner, after which Isabelle Corning of Hartford, Conn., whose summer home is in Oxford village and who has recently returned from a trip abroad, gave a very interesting and instructive talk describing her trip with illustrations, which made it seem as if we had made the trip with her. It was listened to with marked attention and hearty applause.

Mrs. Homer of Rhode Island, who is visiting Miss Corning, gave several selections on the piano entirely from memory that younger musicians would do well to imitate. It was indeed remarkable and fully appreciated.
Dainty refreshments were served and all present felt that it was one of the most enjoyable meetings in the history of the organization.

Nathan S. Verrill.
Nathan S. Verrill died at the Central Maine General hospital, Sept. 2, as the result of an operation for a tumor.
He was born in Oxford, Aug. 11, 1841, but the greater part of his life was spent in Auburn, where he has worked in the various shoe shops for many years. He has been in failing health but did not give up work till last March, since which time he has failed rapidly, but unflinching courage kept him up until the last.

He is survived by a wife, Mrs. Mary E. Verrill; two daughters, Mrs. Evelyn Cram of Rindville, Mrs. Gertrude Howard of Freeport; one brother, Moses Verrill of Hebron; and three grandchildren, Zina, Agnes and Marguerite Hall, and Merton Earle and Raymond Howard.
The boys left Camp Kohut, Wednesday last week.

ONE reason for giving this store the title above, is that it shows you very clearly just what kind of a store it is. There's no better way to make clear, in a very few words, that this store is a quality center, headquarters for good merchandise, than to call it the home of Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes. We're ready to show you now the latest new styles in these goods; the new fall stock is in; a fine display of best clothes.

Smart fashions for young men; more conservative styles for older men; the new shape maker, varsity and other new models in suits; the new adjustable collar overcoats.

An immense variety of patterns in the new browns and blues.
